

Examining My Environmental Impact

As followers of Jesus, each of us belong to the Church Universal and, as a tangible expression of that Church, we partner with a local Church. I am assuming that those of you viewing this presentation have made such a covenant. This exercise is designed to get you thinking about that environment and, stretching out from it, the environments of your life outside of the Church family.

Fellowship* = the kind of community reserved for those of us in faith relationship to God through Jesus

On a scale of 1-10, with 1 = strained at best and 10 = comfort, joy, and peace, where would you place yourself in fellowship with your Church family right now?

What is the healthiest relationship you currently hold within the Church (biological family not included)?

Why do you describe that relationship as healthy?

How long has it taken to develop this relationship?

What is the most challenging relationship you currently hold within the Church?

How have you contributed to that dysfunction?

What one thing could you do to demonstrate a desire for healing?

What two people, outside of your Church, do you currently have a “light-giving, salt-shaking” relationship with?

What are 2 actions you’ve taken in the last 6 months to develop those relationships?

Who is one additional person you could take similar steps with in the next month?
